

SPRAY GUN 95PCXT

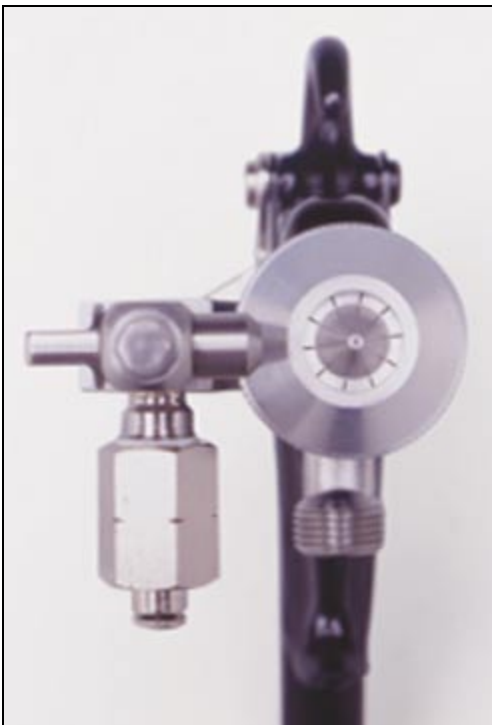

ADHESIVE SPRAY GUN

This is a Binks gun outfitted with the exclusive USL, plural component Tornado Nozzle assembly.

The 95PCXT is a Binks gun outfitted with the exclusive USL, plural component Tornado Nozzle assembly. This gun is used for the application of plural component water based adhesives.

The Tornado Nozzle not only creates a vacuum for better fluid delivery, but also reduces overspray by dispersion through a circular spray pattern. The activator is injected externally into the stream of adhesive and is mixed outside of the fluid nozzle for a consistent, on-ratio delivery of both components.

In addition, the 95T has a built-in air adjusting valve for convenient air atomization control and a non-adjustable fluid control knob to prevent unnecessary adhesive build up in the fluid nozzle.
